

WORD given at New Life Christian Center

July 7th, 2024

To Pastor Glen Kline

When you look, says the Lord, into my world. When you look with your spiritual eyes into my world you will not see disorder and chaos. You'll rather see the perfection that I intend for you to live in today. When you look into My world, says the Lord, what you'll see is in maturity my people perfectly worship me. They bow down before me in maturity and perfection.

So know this. The design that I have given to you is free to you to see today. You can look past your natural circumstance. You can change your perspective. You can look up into heaven and see what I've designed for you, says the Lord. For in this day you'll need to keep your eyes focused on what my intent for your life is, not your experience.

Intent will trump experience every day, says the Lord. For My intent is perfect for you. And it rides on a pathway of prayer from My presence to you. You can live in it in this world, says the Lord. Amen.
